Mr. Amparo Ortiz

San Antonio, TX 78204-1309

Dear Mr. Ortiz:

The Marion Koogler McNay Art Museum has been an integral part of the San Antonio community since 1954. Since the museum's opening, its collection has increased in both size and range, and now numbers over 15,000 works of art, making it a must see for both visitors and San Antonians alike. We depend on your generosity to continue providing to the community our superb collection of modern European and American Art, the finest special exhibitions and a diverse array of educational programs and lectures.

The Annual Fund, supported by your year-end donation, provides an unrestricted source of operating dollars that help assure the financial strength of our great museum. Each year the McNay provides free admission to more than 100,000 visitors. We reimburse transportation costs for nearly 20,000 school children, whose visits to the museum enhance the curricula of local schools through our educational programs and Teacher Resource Center. Gallery talks, lectures, special events, plus superb exhibitions are also supported by the Annual Fund. Your contribution, no matter what the amount, makes a difference, and will help to maintain our programs.

Please give as generously as possible to this appeal. We are enclosing a reply envelope for your use. Your gift to the Annual Fund is fully tax-deductible.

Thank you in advance for your gift, which will ensure the continued success of the first museum of modern art in Texas.

Sincerely,

William J. Chiego
Director

P.S. Please accept the enclosed free admission coupon to the Fairfield Porter exhibition through January 4, 2004 as our way of saying "thank you" for helping us to begin 2004 on a positive note. The exhibition was voted the International Association of Art Critics' choice as the year's best exhibition when it opened in New York.

To Ms. Olivares-Hernandez

On behalf of the Hispanic Scholarship Fund, it is my pleasure to thank UVN Texas LP for your generous support. Your 2003 contribution, in the amount of $5000, for the Anheuser-Busch Tu Musica en la Plaza Promotion is most appreciated.

I am delighted that you supported HSF to raise money for scholarships to help Latino students fulfill their dreams of a college education. We believe the college scholarships made possible by this funding will help to create future Latino leaders and will thereby enrich our community for years to come.

This is an exciting time for HSF as we grow our programs, expand our outreach and are able to impact the lives of more and more deserving students. In our 28-year history, HSF has awarded over 61,000 scholarships totaling more than $115 million, including awards made through the HSF Institute that was launched in 2001. We are proud of the fact that our programs are proving successful with 97% of all HSF Scholars receiving their four-year degrees. However, the need continues to outpace our resources, and ongoing support is crucial to helping us achieve our mission to double the rate of Hispanics earning a college degree to 18% by 2010.

Again, thank you for your wonderful support of HSF and Hispanic higher education. We look forward to our continued progress.

Dear Ms. Ortiz,

Thank you for speaking with me earlier about running a public service announcement for the Asian New Year Festival on your station. We invite your community to join the Institute of Texan Cultures and San Antonio's Asian Community in celebrating the Year of the Monkey on Saturday, January 24, 2004.

The Asian New Year Festival in San Antonio is the only one of its kind in South Texas and will feature martial arts demonstrations, mouth-watering cuisine, ethnic dance presentations and more! This would be of particular interest to your audience since there is a strong Asian community in your area.

Enclosed is a public service announcement for your station. Thank you for your support and if you need further information, please feel free to contact me.

Please let me thank you for the fine family style programs
you have carried on your TV station through-out these years.

Your programs have always been informative and interesting to the whole family.

Last Monday, the 17th, I watched
"Jerry Yarnell School of fine Art". It comes on at 12 noon and ends at 12:30 pm. This program is very, very interesting, and it not only takes you step-by-step through his painting, but he also explains, how the Indians killed the buffalo for food, but how they butchered the buffalo. Also, how every bit of the buffalo was used for food and bones for tool and other needs.

I think that the history behind the painting is very informative and interesting.

My family and I would like to go to Oklahoma next summer to visit the actual site, the painting depicts.

We will watch next Monday for more information and history.

Please extend my Thanks to the other people responsible for programs like "Jerry Yarnell School of Fine Art". Please do continue "ON Course".

Sincerely,

Dear KLRN Programming Team:

My sincere thanks for POV "State of Denial"...to say it was shocking would be an understatement. "State of Denial" is a stunning blow to our American reality of recall votes and constitutional propositions, we forget that the majority of our sisters and brothers have no voice except those heroic volunteers faced with the dilemma of tending to basic human need. God bless them all.
Thank you.

I want to express my thanks for airing the Frontline Program: The Taking of Logan Marr. I work with Children's Protective Services and found the program most compelling. I look forward to next week's episode. Thank you too for the program with Henry Cisneros. The public needs to know that the system may fail, but more often, it is the failure of parents to protect their children that results in the most devastating harm. Social work is a very delicate process that requires balancing the rights and needs of children and those of their families. It will be a good thing when our community puts its children first.

Thank you for your excellent community service.

Dear Mrs. Vogel:

Many thanks for your continued appreciation and support of KLRN.

Thanks to viewers like you who value public television enough to be a supporting member, KLRN is able to continue it's quality and unmatched service to south central Texas. However, there is still a large audience across our viewing area that watches and enjoys KLRN, but has not lent the station much needed support. Perhaps these folks don't understand that public television is a nonprofit enterprise that relies on community support for its livelihood or maybe they assume that others, like you, will continue to generously foot the bill. Either way, it is becoming more important now than ever for KLRN to expand its membership base during these challenging times.

Over the past year, we have filed away member comments. I recently enjoyed reviewing these files and the many wonderful comments you and others have made about how important KLRN is to you and how well you feel the station is serving the community. We believe that sharing such positive comments in our on-air and print membership efforts will inspire others to join you in supporting KLRN; however, we must have written permission. We would like to use your name and the following comments, in whole or part that you sent to us on February 5, 2002 for print and/or on-air fundraising efforts:

Thanks to KLRN, my daughter, now age seven has had a three year career goal of becoming an orchestra conductor. She also is the proud new owner of a violin and loves her lessons! I know I can always turn to your channel and leave the room and she will be safely educated and entertained; she never asks to change the channel! When we visit other's homes & people turn on cartoon network for her, we both ask them to change to PBS.

In days that are more increasingly saturated with media and government regulated areas, ownership of a television station is both a privilege and responsibility. I encourage every parent, whether single & struggling, or wealthy and an enthusiastic consumer, to do their best to contribute to your local PBS. Dear Program Director,

I appreciate so much having Christ Baptist Church services televised. For more than fifty years I played piano or organ for my community and for more than sixty, attended my church. Now I am no longer physically able to do this, so television is a godsend. So, thank you for your cooperation with this church.

I was disappointed that one of America's Gods, Sports, preempted it today. I feel sure the preacher had a special message after this week's tragedy. Sincerely,

Thank you so much for your coverage of our recent Days of Caring project. To see 3,000 San Antonians work for the advancement of their community is truly inspiring.
